Australians Welcome LBJ On His Mission of Hope

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — President Johnson arrived in Australia today to an enthusiastic welcome, and declared he was on a mission of hope for peace. But he said the task ahead is not easy because "the securing of peace is not done by miracles."

Johnson flew in from New Zealand, where he obtained a pledge of allied unity in Viet Nam and called on North Viet Nam's leaders to join in a "nobler war" on hunger, ignorance and disease in Southeast Asia.

Johnson was greeted by all the pomp and circumstance Australia could muster, including a 21-gun salute and an honor guard. He was welcomed by the small crowd. But the crowds grew into the thousands as his motorcade drove into Canberra. The weather cooperated fully for the coming of the first American President to visit Australia. A light rain stopped 10 minutes before the presidential jet landed in Canberra, the capital, and brilliant late afternoon sunshine slanted through the dark gray thunderheads as Johnson, followed by his wife, stepped from the plane to be greeted by Prime Minister Harold Holt.

Harking back once again to his World War II visit to Australia and New Zealand as a naval officer, Johnson told the welcoming crowd at the airport he had returned — en route to the Manila conference on Viet Nam

— on a mission of hope. "I cannot say that miracles will occur at Manila," he declared. "The hard work of securing the peace is not done by miracles."

"I cannot say that the hunger and injustice of the past will be ended by a declaration of the seven nations (including Australia) who will meet next week. 'Years must pass, years of dedication and patient effort, before men can make the just society of which they dream.'"

Johnson declared that there is a new vision, "a new hope," in this vast area of the world.

"It is a vision of emancipation — from foreign domination, from tyranny, from the despair that rides with hunger and disease and ignorance. It is the only vision worthy of man's destiny. We shall try to capture part of that vision at Manila."

A crowd of about 400 that had braved the chilly weather and earlier rain cheered loudly and clapped during the President's speech.

Johnson said he was grateful that the Australian and American people had put their hands to the task of helping to build a new Asia.

"I feel now — as I did in 1942 — the confidence that comes from the steadfast support of Australia," he said. "You must know that we reciprocate that support in full measure."

"Together, as we have always been, I know that we shall succeed. Now I look forward to meeting your great people once again."

The American President moved on to the fourth stop on his 29,000-mile Asian tour after exchanging public pledges with Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake of New Zealand to fend off aggression and search for peace in Viet Nam.

U.S., Russia See Chance For Agreement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union told the United Nations today that chances have improved for agreement on treaty halting the spread of nuclear weapons. Both expressed optimism over recent developments.

Opening a major disarmament debate, Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko declared that he welcomed recent assurance given by the United States and that agreement would be possible soon if Washington would back the assurances with concrete practical deeds.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg also spoke of progress which he said had created a more hopeful prospect for concluding a nonproliferation treaty.

They addressed the General Assembly's Main Political Committee.

"I am happy to inform this committee," Goldberg said, "that the United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to take advantage of this new and more promising situation."

Fedorenko informed the 121-nation committee that "some change for the better can be discerned" and this was welcomed by the Soviet Union. He added, however, that the United States had not yet taken steps to plug alleged loopholes which would permit West Germany to get access to nuclear weapons, and this posed a threat to European peace.

"It is to be hoped," Fedorenko declared, "that assurances made by United States responsible officials to the effect that they are striving to resolve the problem of preventing a further proliferation of nuclear weapons would be supported by concrete practical deeds on the part of

'Good Fingerprints' Remain Best Clues in Slaying Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Two good fingerprints" remained as the major clues today in the slaying of a noted churchman and civil rights leader after a workman seen near the murder scene was cleared of any involvement in the crime.

A raspy-voiced man seen outside the newly opened United Christian Center, where Dr. Robert W. Spike was killed at about the projected time of the crime Monday, became the subject of an intensive search Wednesday.

He turned out to be a plumber's helper working on a constructing project behind the center which the 43-year-old victim helped dedicate Sunday. Police found him working on the project, took him in for questioning, and later said they were convinced he had nothing to do with the brutal bludgeoning slaying.

With release of the workman, police were left with the two fingerprints found in the center guest room where Spike was killed as the best remaining lead.

Also being thoroughly checked for possible clues were five night spots, addresses of which were found in the murder room along with two health magazines, which had photographs of nude men and women.

Officers stressed there was no indication that Spike had visited any of the night spots and said Wednesday a night-long search of taverns and restaurants in the Ohio State University area failed to turn up anyone who could recognize a photo of the victim.

Dr. Spike was executive director of the Commission on Religion and Race of the National Council of Churches until last year, when he became professor of ministry at the University of Chicago.

Susan Weaver Tops 118 For Little Miss Title

THE JUDGES' CHOICE — Shivering from the cold and from delight, this trio of lovely Little Misses braved a few more minutes of the bone chilling wind while posing for photographers. The Little Miss Pumpkin Show court are (left to right): Janice Tigner, attendant; Susan Weaver, the Little Miss; Tonda Harper, attendant.

Lovely Little Susan Weaver was named Little Miss Pumpkin Show 1966, climaxing the drizzly, shivering parade and judging competition.

First attendant for the week's festivities is Janice Tigner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tigner, Route 3, Tonda Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Harper, 466 John St., is the second attendant.

The new Little Miss is the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weaver, Route 4. The pretty little brunette was the representative of the Washington Twp. School.

Janice Tigner was sponsored in the parade by Circle D Recreation and Tonda Harper was the Mound St. School candidate.

Yesterday's judging marked the beginning of a week of frenzied activity for the three vivacious little girls and their parents.

Temperatures that hovered in the mid forties and a chill damp wind kept people away from the judging, although the brave little girls shivered through it all.

The entire affair, from the time the parade started until the new tiny beauty was crowned, was one of the fastest on record according to Jim Shea, who has announced every Little Miss Contest since the event was first started.

At 5 p. m., just two hours after the parade started, Rhonda Sue Harber, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Harber of Circleville, relinquished the title she has held for one year.

The 1965 attendants, who rode in the Little Miss Parade with Miss Harber on the Queens float, were Robin Manson and Kimberly Tomlinson.

This cute little trio was selected from 97 contestants that were entered last year.

THIS YEAR, there were 118 contestants according to Larry Lewis, who chairmanned the parade and contest for the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The judges selected by the Jaycees this year were Dr. Louis Goorey of Worthington, Lucy Gasaway of Columbus and Richard Murgatroyd of Columbus.

A huge crowd, estimated at about 4,000, jammed around the W. Main St. platform for the eliminations and crowning ceremony.

DEBBIE Ankrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ankrom, Route 1, relinquished her crown to Miss Dawley. Miss Ankrom, however, retains the title of Miss Ohio Festivals that she won earlier at the Sugar Creek Swiss Festival. The new Miss Pumpkin Show will be eligible for the Queen of Queens title next fall.

In a brief farewell speech, Miss Ankrom thanked Pumpkin Show officials with special emphasis on vice president Ned Harden and to all the Pumpkin Show fans whom she termed "the most wonderful people in the world."

Miss Pumpkin Show of 1966 is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Dawley, Route 1, Circleville. Miss Dawley is a varsity cheerleader at Logan Elm, a member of the school choir and is secretary of the senior class.

Horseback riding and sewing are her hobbies. The 5-foot 6-inch brunette has brown eyes and weighs 124 pounds. Her measurements are 34-25-35.

First attendant Ann Marie O'Brien is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. O'Brien, Knollwood Village. She has brown hair and green eyes, weighs about 115 pounds and is 5-foot 7-inches tall. Her measurements are 34-22-35.

Miss Gobel, second attendant, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gobel, Route 1, Stoutsville. The petite blonde is active in many school functions at Amanda - Clearcreek. Her measurements are 34-25-35.

MRS. Jerry Pritchard, president of Beta Kappa Chapter of Sigma Phi Gamma International Sorority — sponsor of the competition, presented each of the winners with an arm bouquet of bronze-toned mums. Trophies were awarded to the girls by the sorority and Pumpkin Show Inc.

Judges for the event were Betty Wonderleigh, representative of Beta Kappa Chapter of Sigma Phi Gamma International Sorority in Washington C. H.; Dean Godwin, manager of operations of Delta Airlines' Columbus office; and a representative of the Andre Corrae Beauty Salon of Columbus.

Queen Pat Dawley and her court, along with Little Miss Pumpkin Show and her attendants will ride on the queens' float in the remaining parades of the Pumpkin Show. In addition, Miss Dawley will travel extensively in the coming year and will compete in the Miss Ohio Festivals Contest next fall.

the parade. The proprietor was having himself a little siesta during the lull. He was wearing ear-muffs! And needed them!

Darrell Hatfield, director of Pumpkin Show Window Trimming contest reports that judges were most complimentary Wednesday when they judged the windows. Hatfield says the competition was keen. Judges who had the same task in 1964 believe 1966 windows were even better this year.

Pickaway County Garden Club's window trimming committee used the Cinderella theme. Live white mice were a part of the display. Now the committee is in a dither lest the mice catch cold in the unheated window. This window won the first award!

Some dissenting garden club members thought live mice would be too much trouble. Club president, Mrs. Kenneth Hannan said that she had taken care of a monkey and compared with that chore white mice would not seem too difficult a task.

Pumpkin Show Big Shots in their green blazers with the Pumpkin Show crest emblazoned on the pocket are a chic looking group. Women directors have added jumpers to complete the costume. They all got together and made the jumpers.

Mrs. Keith Merrin has a lot of gypsy in her soul. She is operating the "Dairy Clipper" concession on W. Main this Pumpkin Show. Somebody asked her what organization she represented and she said, "The Mrs. Keith Merrin Organization". She owns the concession and takes it around to fairs and festivals.

Mrs. Charles Boggs, teacher at Circleville High School, says that she does pretty well all year at turning down rich desserts. But when Hedges Chapel booth exhibits their elegant pies she cannot resist. She claims some excellent cooks live in the Hedges Chapel vicinity.

Ruth Wells, 221 E. High St., was a good sport when she arrived too late Wednesday with her flowers to enter the competition. She talked with flower show director Mrs. G. Guy Campbell and followed Mrs. Campbell's suggestion that she leave her exhibit just for display.

Mrs. Eugene Crawford, is offering pink dahlias to friends who need flowers for Friday's show. She lives in Kingston and her pink Gerrie Hoek dahlias are lovely.

Do not miss the flowering cabbage on display at the fruits and vegetables display on E. Main St. The cabbage has lacy ruffled edges. In the center it is a pure violet and around the outer edges dark green.

Pumpkin Pie Contest director, Dorothy Shadley, was well pleased with the response on the first morning of the contest. Even the teen-agers who are still in school brought their pies. More than Mrs. Shadley anticipated! There were 11 entries in the teen - age contest.

The Ned Hardens are expecting 16 guests during Pumpkin Show. Coming for the event are Mrs. Harden's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Roberts of Piqua and their family. Friday Nancy Harden will be bringing eight school friends from Miami University home to see the big festival.

Why not send a postcard picturing the big pumpkin pie to all the friends who wrote and mentioned they had seen the picture of the Pumpkin pie in their local paper. The picture just about went around the world last year. Postcards are available at Lindsay's Bakery and of course another big pie is there again this year.

Mayor Ben Gordon and his wife were in fine Pumpkin Show form as they passed the Court and Main corner Wednesday at the head of the parade. Mrs. Gordon's white fur hat and her golden chrysanthemum corsage as well as her smile added a note of warmth and elegance.

The paraders, little Miss Pumpkin Show contestants included, were true trouperes. Everybody was happy, cold rain or not!

Correction! Willson Leist wants it known that he was a first - place winner in the baby parade in 1958. He won a dollar and he still has the ribbon as proof. It's in the family Bible and anybody who wants to challenge the fact may call at his home, 360 West Street. "Why", says Willie Leist, "Wilbur Pontius is an older man than I am. Wilbur must be 60!! (Willie will be 59 in November).

Dawn Morrison, Route 1, Williamsport, who was first attendant to the Pumpkin Show Queen looked especially happy on the float in the Wednesday parade. She had just been notified that she was a winner in the Pumpkin Pie contest - second place. Well, Dawn, there is a contest every day.

Terry Anderson, Route 4, will appear with the "Continental", Columbus Chapter of Barbershop Quartets 7:30 p. m. tonight on W. Main St. platform. Anderson is a barber in the local Moore Barber Shop S. Court St.

Pumpkin Show directors received a long distance call Wednesday from Muskegon, Mich., requesting "a piece of the 'world's largest pumpkin pie.' The caller, who left his name and address offered to pay all charges for the piece of pie. Show Director Orley (Doc) Bosworth said a regular sized pie would be sent to the Michigan resident at the expense of the Pumpkin Show.

Photographer for the pictures of the Pumpkin Show appearing in The Herald is Greg Griffith, a senior at Circleville High School employed by Beaver Studio. Greg has been working with the studio for two years, covering major happenings around the Circleville area.

A group of 15 to 40 members of the American Youth Hostels will indulge in a bicycle trip from Columbus to Circleville Saturday to visit the Pumpkin Show. The group plans to start on the journey in the afternoon and arrive sometime Saturday night. After spending the night here they will return to Columbus.

Four chartered buses from Dayton, O., brought loads of people to the downtown area. The buses parked on E. Franklin St. and discharged their passengers for a day of sightseeing.

Garden Club Entry Wins Window Event

Cinderella at the Pumpkin Show was the winning theme of the annual window judging competition.

Carried out by the Pickaway Garden Club, the theme graced the window at the building which housed the flower, art, fruit and vegetable shows.

The garden clubbers artful arrangement included a Cinderella doll in rags, a pumpkin carriage, six live white mice and reins bedecked with flowers leading to the coach.

The window was just 1 1/2 points above the second place theme carried out by Dougherty's Appliance in the window of the store at 147 W. Main St.

IN THIRD place was the Girl Scout Troop 778 window. Weaver Furniture Store window housed the fourth place entry decorated by Margaret Thompson.

The quality of the windows was much better than it has been in the past according to Darrell Hatfield, chairman of the event.

The judging was based on theme, neatness, originality, workmanship.

Honorable mention window was decorated by the Church of the Brethren Women's Fellowship at Radcliffe Cleaners.

Progress Made In Regrouping Viet Nam Cabinet

SUIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) - Premier Nguyen Cao Ky made progress today toward patching up his civilian cabinet, but two of the seven southern dissidents were reported refusing to withdraw their resignations.

Ky told a news conference that while he was at the Manila conference next week Deputy Prime Minister Nguyen Van Vieu, one of the seven who had quit Wednesday, would be in charge in Saigon.

A lack of other official comment and a spate of contradictory rumors left the outcome of the dispute in doubt. Unofficial reports were that Ky had persuaded five of the southerners to stay on in the cabinet. No informed source, however, said the premier had ended the basic feud between the southern civilians and the military men from North Viet Nam who hold the power.

The southerners have blamed top northern officials for "regional divisionism" in the government and have accused National Police Chief Nguyen Ngoc Loan of ruthlessness. In a resignation statement Wednesday, they said the military regime was corrupt, complained of military interference in civilian affairs and said the government should do something to better the life of the people.

The split did not appear to threaten the life of Ky's 16-month-old regime since civilians in the cabinet are limited largely to administrative functions. But it promised embarrassment for Ky at the Manila meeting opening Monday.

Education Minister Nguyen Van Truong and Youth Minister Vo Long Trieu were said to be determined to resign but "willing no to make an issue" of their complaints just before the Manila conference.

Following unconfirmed reports that the other five dissidents had torn up their resignations, Ky's press office called a news conference. But Ky read a prepared statement that did not mention the cabinet split, would answer only written questions, and ignored those on the political crisis.

Deputy Premier Vien and Public Works Minister Truong Van Thuan, another of the dissidents, were at the news conference but would not talk to newsmen.

Unofficial sources said Ky had agreed to rebuke Loan, the national police chief, and may have made other concessions. The southerners had reportedly demanded that Loan be dismissed.

ble men, for men of conscience, there is no acceptable alternative but to resist aggression," Johnson told New Zealand's Parliament.

The President argued that hopes for a better tomorrow in Asia cannot be realized "in a climate of terror." He said the Communists are trying to create that climate - and to use it for conquest - in Viet Nam.

Directing his words at Hanoi, Johnson said: "We say to the leaders of North Viet Nam: A new Asia is emerging. Your people should be part of it - proud, independent, peaceful - the beneficiaries of a social and scientific revolution that is regenerating the life of man.

"Our goal is not to destroy North Viet Nam, not to compel her to surrender anything which is hers, not to bring down her government.

"It is simply to halt the war she is waging and supporting against her neighbor. When we succeed - and we shall succeed - we shall begin a nobler war against man's ancient enemies - hunger, ignorance and disease - everywhere in Southeast Asia, including North Viet Nam, if its government so desires."

North Viet Nam Wednesday denounced Johnson's tour as "the extreme hypocrisy" and said the Manila conference Johnson will attend next week is designed to intensify the war in Viet Nam. Peking joined in the denunciation.

Jail Destruction Draws Stiff Fine, Jail Sentence

Bobby Ray Everhart, 36, of Lexington, N. C., was handed fines totaling $200 by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb today.

Everhart was charged with destruction of property and with intoxication by Circleville Police.

Arresting officer Jack Mills told the judge that Everhart walked into the Police Station and became quarrelsome.

According to the officer's testimony, Everhart was apparently intoxicated and he was incarcerated.
While in the city jail, he battered the walls, window and ceiling with a bench in the cell. He was then transferred to solitary confinement, and in that cell ripped chunks of concrete out of the walls.

In addition to the fine, Everhart was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

Progress Made In Regrouping Viet Nam Cabinet

SUIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky made progress today toward patching up his civilian cabinet, but two of the seven southern dissidents were reported refusing to withdraw their resignations.

Ky told a news conference that while he was at the Manila conference next week Deputy Prime Minister Nguyen Van Thieu, one of the seven who had quit Wednesday, would be in charge in Saigon.

A lack of other official comment and a spate of contradictory rumors left the outcome of the dispute in doubt. Unofficial reports were that Ky had persuaded five of the southerners to stay on in the cabinet. No informed source, however, said the premier had ended the basic feud between the southern civilians and the military men from North Viet Nam who hold the power.

The southerners have blamed top northern officials for "regional divisionism" in the government and have accused National Police Chief Nguyen Ngoc Loan of ruthlessness. In a resignation statement Wednesday, they said the military regime was corrupt, complained of military interference in civilian affairs and said the government should do something to better the life of the people.

The split did not appear to threaten the life of Ky's 16-month-old regime since civilians in the cabinet are limited largely to administrative functions. But it promised embarrassment for Ky at the Manila meeting opening Monday.

Education Minister Nguyen Van Thieu and Youth Minister Vo Long Trieu were said to be determined to resign but "willing no to make an issue" of their complaints just before the Manila conference.

Following unconfirmed reports that the other five dissidents had torn up their resignations, Ky's press office called a news conference. But Ky read a prepared statement that did not mention the cabinet split, would answer only written questions, and ignored those on the political crisis.

Deputy Premier Vien and Public Works Minister Truong Van Thuan, another of the dissidents, were at the news conference but would not talk to newsmen.

Unofficial sources said Ky had agreed to rebuke Loan, the national police chief, and may have made other concessions. The southerners had reportedly demanded that Loan be dismissed.

In Wellington, New Zealand, President Johnson made no comment. But Bill D. Moyers, press secretary, pointed out that ble men, for men of conscience, there is no acceptable alternative but to resist aggression," Johnson told New Zealand's Parliament.

The President argued that hopes for a better tomorrow in Asia cannot be realized "in a climate of terror." He said the Communists are trying to create that climate — and to use it for conquest — in Viet Nam.

Directing his words at Hanoi, Johnson said: "We say to the leaders of North Viet Nam: A new Asia is emerging. Your people should be part of it — proud, independent, peaceful — the beneficiaries of a social and scientific revolution that is regenerating the life of man.

"Our goal is not to destroy North Viet Nam, not to compel her to surrender anything which is hers, not to bring down her government.

"It is simply to halt the war she is waging and supporting against her neighbor. When we succeed — and we shall succeed — we shall begin a nobler war against man's ancient enemies — hunger, ignorance and disease — everywhere in Southeast Asia, including North Viet Nam, if its government so desires."

North Viet Nam Wednesday denounced Johnson's tour as "the extreme hypocrisy" and said the Manila conference Johnson will attend next week is designed to intensify the war in Viet Nam. Peking joined in the denunciation.

Miss Alkire To Appear At Opening

Miss Alkire, who is now a freshman at Ohio State University, won her title in the televised finals of the Miss American Teen-Ager Contest at Palisades Amusement Park, N. J., in which 70 finalists from all parts of the United States competed. More than 250,000 girls between the ages of 13 through 17 from all parts of the USA competed. The Miss American Teen-Ager Contest at Palisades Amusement Park, N. J., now entering its eighth consecutive year of operation is the oldest and largest teen-age beauty pageant with franchises for local contests from coast to coast.

At the opening of the newest Marcus Jewelry Store in Ridgewood, N. J., Miss American Teen - Ager will be presented with a $500. Miss American Teen-Ager Art Carved Diamond ring by J. R. Wood and Sons of N.Y.C.

She will assist Stanley Marcus, the prominent New Jersey jeweler in showing off a multi-million dollar collection of gems to the public. Included in the collection for public viewing will be the famed Marcus Star Sapphire.

Name Change Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gen. William B. Saxbe proposed today that the name of the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation be shortened to the Ohio Bureau of Investigation.

He also called for unexpansion of the bureau's investigative and scientific activities and endorsed a plan for a centralized wire and radio network that would link all Ohio law enforcement agencies.

He did not elaborate on the "assurances" but he appeared to be referring to private talks held recently between Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and top U.S. officials, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk and President Johnson.

Fedorenko urged the committee to adopt as a stop-gap measure a resolution, sponsored by the Soviet Union, the United States and 12 other countries appealing to all governments to refrain from actions which may hamper agreement on a nonproliferation treaty.

Jail Destruction Draws Stiff Fine, Jail Sentence

Bobby Ray Everhart, 36, of Lexington, N. C., was handed fines totaling $200 by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb today.

Everhart was charged with destruction of property and with intoxication by Circleville Police.

Arresting officer Jack Mills told the judge that Everhart walked into the Police Station and became quarrelsome.

According to the officer's testimony, Everhart was apparently intoxicated and he was incarcerated.

While in the city jail, he battered the walls, window and ceiling with a bench in the cell. He was then transferred to solitary confinement, and in that cell ripped chunks of concrete out of the walls.

In addition to the fine, Everhart was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

Mary Lou Skaggs Is Champ Baker In Teen-Age Class

Winners in Wednesdays Bake - a - Pumpkin - Pie contest are Mrs. Frank Mace who won first award in the adult division and Mary Lou Skaggs who took first place in the teen-age section.

Mrs. Mace, who lives at 127 1/2 N. Court St., edged out 42 other contestants to win the blue ribbon. In the teen-age section won by Miss Skaggs who lives at 130 Dummore Road there were 11 entries.

Other winners in the adult section were: Mrs. David Goldschmidt, 901 Atwater Ave., second; and Mrs. Jack Young, Route 1, Stoutsville, third. Dawn Morrison, Route 1, Williamsport, was second in the teen-age division and Debra Zickafous, 149 W. Franklin St., third.

JUDGES for the Pumpkin Pie contest were Sharon Stark, Columbus Gas Co. and Jeannie Henderson, Southern Ohio Electric Co.

Director of the contest is Mrs. Robert Shadley, assisted by Mrs. John Himrod.

Both first-place winners are now eligible to compete in the Saturday contest for the grand prize. Neither Mrs. Mace nor Miss Skaggs however may enter the other daily contests.

Trophies will be awarded Saturday to Grand Prize Winners by Hadden Chevrolet and Radcliffe Cleaners. Other sponsors are Goeller's Paint Store, Ringman's Drugs, Pumpkin Show Inc., Gordon's Auto Parts and Glass and Ward's Royal Blue Market.

Business Briefs

Gail W. Wacker, president of the Pickaway Motel Corp., said today the board is "more than pleased with the past three months of operation of the Quality Courts Motel" south of Circleville on Route 23.

Wacker noted that the fine reception of the motel has resulted in a small profit for stockholders. "This not only is satisfactory to the shareholders and director of the Pickaway Motel Corp., but should bring pride to the community," Wacker said.

New Role Seen for Philippines

MANILA (AP) — Since the end of World War II, Philippine leaders have been making eloquent speeches about the nation's bonds with Asia.

The newspapers would generally approve, the economists would applaud warmly. Then the nation would generally ignore the whole thing and go about its business.

The late Ramon Magsaysay, the most popular man ever elected president, led the nation into the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization only after initial reluctance. Despite his wide appeal in the region, a respected historian notes, "He never seriously entertained the idea of Asian leadership."

After the SEATO treaty in 1954, the Philippines returned to a cautious and gingerly approach toward Asian neighbors. Twelve years later President Ferdinand E. Marcos aspires now to the role Magsaysay declined in Asian councils.

The seven-nation summit conference on Viet Nam which convenes Monday is the latest step for Marcos.

As host to the United States, Australia, New Zealand, South Viet Nam, South Korea and Thailand—all with troops in Viet Nam—Marcos will automatically be the focus.

If he succeeds, he will give his nation a stronger position in Asia than it has ever enjoyed. He could tilt the power balance a little more against the Red Chinese in Asia.

Approaching the conference, Marcos has insisted "it will reflect some concrete accomplishments."

The seven nations have drifted one by one into the war in Viet Nam without much consultation. In a desire to bolster the South Vietnamese against Communist aggression, they have tended to ignore some evident disagreements about how the war should be conducted.

With the United States building a 400,000-man military force in Viet Nam, President Johnson faces some divergent Asian views.

South Viet Nam's premier Nguyen Cao Ky and South Korea's Chung Hee Park have little stomach for negotiations with the Communists. They are genuine hawks.

The Thais are contributing a minimal force in Viet Nam but are opening their territory to a U.S. buildup. They eye peace negotiations with suspicion.

Optimists in Manila say these views can be molded into a position of allied strength to yield genuinely meaningful peace negotiations. Pessimists feel that the conference could divide along dangerous lines.

This leaves 49-year-old Marcos in the middle. As a World War II guerrilla hero, he might be expected to be a hawk. But before his election 10 months ago he opposed Philippine intervention in Viet Nam. By law, the 2,000-man force of engineers and security troops he sent to Viet Nam is restricted to civic action and self-defense.

Traditionally, the 30 million population in the lush Philippine islands has regarded immediate neighbors as more or less troublesome cousins, with the Chinese the most dangerous of the lot.

The Circleville Herald, Thur. Oct. 20, 1966 3

There is no sign that Filipinos have changed their mind about the Chinese, particularly the Peking variety. It appears they will try more meaningful relations with the rest, even the Japanese whose economic strength sends shivers down the Philippine business spine.

Paradoxically, this could mean even stronger ties with the United States and the West.

That is the role Marcos sees for his nation—a bridge for vast economic and cultural wealth. Hopefully a good bit will remain.

There is still a strong tendency in the Philippines to stay out of Asia's troubles while attempting to widen cultural and trade ties. Similar attitudes are reflected in Australia and New Zealand.

The seven nations will be seeking to reconcile these feelings as much as they will be seeking to find peace in Viet Nam. They face the possibility that "we must all hang together or most assuredly we shall all hang separately," as Benjamin Franklin described another situation.

The problem, as the United States sees it, is that few Asians have read much of Franklin.

Rate Upped Again

For the third time this year the government has been forced by a tight money market to increase the interest rate on mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration.

The statutory maximum of 6 per cent now in effect on new FHA and VA mortgages is the highest for these obligations. Purchasers of homes financed by the two agencies actually will be charged 6½ per cent, the extra half per cent being the insurance fee.

Officials say the higher rate would increase the flow of mortgage money to prospective home-buyers. But this is precisely the explanation the administration gave for last February's rise from 5¼ to 5½ per cent and again in April when the rate was increased to 5¾ per cent.

Even such an habitual critic of high interest rates as Chairman Wright Patman of the House Banking Committee conceded the increases were necessary to make them competitive with yields on other types of investments. But the rises earlier this year failed to open the mortgage gates.

The buyer's biggest problem now may not be so much the higher interest rate as finding mortgage money even at 6 per cent.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

After I recovered from an illness which I thought to be minor or I was told that I had had a little stroke. What makes a little stroke different from a big stroke? Does a little stroke mean that a big stroke will always follow?

Mr. C.C. Tennessee Dear Mr. C.: Doctors are now recognizing the fact that many strange, unexplained and temporary symptoms may have been caused by little strokes. Patients with minor symptoms like a feeling of confusion, a thickness of speech, a moment of dizziness or numbness of the arms and legs tend to forget these experiences because they may last for just a few moments.

When these symptoms are called to the attention of the doctor they may alert him to the possibility that a small stroke was in progress. Immediate examination, brain wave tests and X-rays may point to the underlying condition and the exact part of the brain that was affected.

When a little stroke occurs in a young man in the early thirties or forties it may alert him to the need for loss of weight, reduction in alcohol and tobacco.

co and a readjustment of his overactive, hard-driving way of living. In many instances the small stroke can be responsible for avoiding a large stroke by making one live a life of greater moderation.

A small stroke may be caused by a clot, a spasm or a hemorrhage of a tiny blood vessel in the brain. The size of the brain area and its location determines the severity and the kind of symptoms one has following a small or large stroke.

If a small stroke and its minor symptoms are recognized, the chances are great that when the underlying condition is removed or controlled a large stroke can be avoided. Small strokes are one of the many warning devices that are built into the body as safety fuses.

I have had a lump on my wrist which is painful and interferes with motion. A friend of mine said he could cure it by hitting it with a Bible. He did and for a few days it looked smaller. I have now gone to see a doctor who calls it a ganglion and I am worried that it now may become a cancer because I foolishly allowed it to be broken. What is a ganglion, and do you think I have cause to be concerned?

Mrs. Y.R., South Dakota Dear Mrs. R.: Ganglions are small cysts of the tendons and joints. They happen most frequently on the upper surface of the wrist. Sometimes they grow rather large when they fill up with fluid and cause pain and limitation of motion of the wrist. The reason why the Bible has, for years, been said to break the ball of this ganglion cyst is because it was the biggest book in the house before "Gone With the Wind" was substituted for this type of home surgery. Ganglions should be removed by surgery under local anesthesia to insure the fact that they will not recur. There is no chance that your ganglion will be cancerous.

Gentle but firm discipline with lots of love are excellent "motational vitamins" for the growth of a child.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THOMAS A. EDISON, many years ago, had a very beautiful summer residence in which he took great pride. One day he was showing his guests about, pointing out all the various labor-saving devices on the premises. Turning back toward the house, it was necessary to pass through a turnstile which led onto the main path. The guests soon found out that it took considerable force to get through this device. "Mr. Edison," asked one of his guests, "how is it that with all these wonderful modern things around, you still maintain such a heavy turnstile?" Said Mr. Edison, his eyes lighting up with laughter, "Well, you see, everyone who pushes the turnstile around pumps eight gallons of water into the tank on my roof."

One of the most eloquent summaries of New York's maddening traffic jam was delivered by the piquant French film star, Leslie Caron, the first time she was caught in a typical cross-town foul-up. She calmly instructed her chauffeur to turn off the motor, shrugged her lovely shoulders, and observed, "How wonderfully you have ze traffic organized here in New York. NUSS-ING WHATEVER MOVES!"

Ten-year-old Ralph was instructed to escort his sister Rosalie, two years his junior, to Sunday School, and each was given a dime to contribute to the library fund. Back home, Ralph was asked if all had gone according to plan. "I gave my dime, all right," reported Ralph, "but Rosalie couldn't give hers. She swallowed it."

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Dave Hannahs and Tom Too-tl were honored as Tigers of the Week on the Circleville High School football team.

James Grant, exalted ruler of the Circleville Elks Lodge, was making plans for a special observance of Pumpkin Show.

PROBATE COURT NOTICE All interested parties are hereby notified that the following Executors and Administrators have filed their inventories and appraisements in the Probate Court of Pickaway County, Ohio:

No. 22329 Anna Mankey, Executrix of the estate of Earl Williams, deceased.
No. 22301 Theresa M. Carrel, Administratrix W.W.A. of the estate of William L. Mason, deceased.
No. 22077 Gail E. Wolfe, Executrix of the estate of Grace Wolfe, deceased.
No. 22374 Doris E. Moats, Executrix of the estate of Arnold M. Moats, deceased.
No. 22362 Frances Josephine Norman, Administratrix of the estate of Shirley F. Norman, deceased.
No. 17701 Helen R. Counts, Administratrix of the estate of William Owens, deceased.

And that said inventories will be for hearing and settlement before the Probate Court on Monday, October 24th, 1966, at 9 o'clock A.M. Exceptions to said inventories, if any, must be filed herein on or before October 18th, 1966.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Probate Court this 12th day of October, 1966.

"The Nutt Family" by Walter Blake was featured play by the Logan Elm Drama Club's season opener.

TEN YEARS AGO Turnouts at the Pumpkin Show set estimate records of 200,000.

City Superintendent of Schools George Hartman asked Circleville voters for an additional 2.3 mill school operating levy.

"Christmas Cove," a painting by Ruth Montelius, was judged Best of Show in the Circleville Art League display.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO Boy Scouts of the Pickaway County district gathered in the Pickaway Country Club to hear reports on organization, finance, cubbing, advancement and troop service.

Miss Margaret Hunsicker, county health nurse, addressed a crowd of 100 members and guests of the Walnut Twp. PTA.

"Landmarks in Pickaway County" was theme of a paper presented to the Major John Boggs Chapter, Daughters of 1812 by Mrs. Orion King.

Let 'Em Eat Eggplant

Can it be that the Democrats are going to bat on election day with the slogan of "Let 'em eat cake"?

This query is prompted by a recent statement coming from Esther Peterson, President Lyndon Johnson's special assistant on consumer affairs, who has apparently never heard of Queen Marie Antoinette's role in touching off the French Revolution by suggesting that the Paris proletariat eat pastry if it couldn't get bread.

Mrs. Peterson's advice to the American housewife is to begin doing without meat and potatoes. "Variety and planning," she said, "is the key. Housewives want to buy and make the most for a dollar. They need to get off the old meat and potatoes routine. I's expensive."

So help me, this advice to give up meat seems to have passed without a murmur from the Republicans. The Peterson statement is, beyond any doubt, the mos. abject admission yet made that our contemporary economic policies have finally succeeded in burying the old American standard of living six feet deep. A nation that has been on a meat diet for practically the whole of its existence is now told, in effect, that it must turn to eggplant or some such substitute tricked up with continental sauces, but we have no real talent along those lines. So the Peterson statement is just as empty-headed as Marie Antoinette's. The difference between Marie Antoinette's day and ours is that the French and had some spunk. They reacted against the advice to live on cake by throwing the Queen out of office, so to speak. But our reaction against Mrs. Peterson's adjuration to do without hamburger is nil. The Democrats apparently think it is just another routine guideline. The Republicans are comatose. The only explanation for the failure of the Republicans to rise in wrath is that they have been out of office so long that they wouldn't recognize a good sirloin if they saw one.

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

We, at General Electric, wish to commend the Police Chief Bob Temple, Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe, and Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, and their staffs, when called in as the result of a reported time bomb in the plant.

The promptness, the excellent organizing of resources, the counsel and the courage exhibited is much appreciated.

The Circleville Herald and the local Radio Station WNRE performed an excellent community service by getting the information to employees and community promptly and passing on timely progress messages to employees concerning the situation.

Fortunately, no bomb was found nor did any explosion occur. The police department is continuing its investigation to find who made the call.

Judge Boots 2 Dems from Office Site

CINCINNATI (AP) — Congressional candidate John J. Gilligan and gubernatorial candidate Frazier Reams Jr., both Democrats, were kicked out of here Wednesday.

Common Pleas court Judge Louis J. Schneider put them out in the street, saying their headquarters were housed in a building owned by the city.

A city policy forbids using city-owned property for political purposes, and Schneider issued a temporary injunction, ordering the candidates to move out.

The headquarters were located in a building purchased for urban renewal and administered by the Fifth Third Union Trust Co., which filed a suit.

A real estate firm executive, Harold K. Hirschberg, was accused of renting the building two weeks ago under false pretenses for use as a store.

Gilligan is running for re-election from the 1st District, and Reams is seeking to unseat Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Policemen Mum in Bricca Case

CINCINNATI (AP)—Authorities have received a "complete" report from the FBI on the Gerald Bricca family murder, but remained mum on its contents.

Lt. Herbert Vogel, heading the investigation, said Wednesday the report was "complete and detailed," but declined to say if it shed any new light on the slayings of Bricca, 28, his wife, Linda, 24, and their daughter, Debbie, 4.

"There is nothing in the report that I can comment on now" was Vogel's reply to all questions.

The bodies of the Briccas were found the night of Sept. 27 in their suburban Bridgetown home. They were stabbed repeatedly.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Better Than Mom's

DEAR ABBY: Our 27-year-old daughter, who has been teaching school, asked us to come to the city (we live in the country) so we could meet the man she has decided to marry. He is 30, wears glasses, is bald and can't dance. They want to marry within the next few months. My husband and I are at a loss.

A few years ago our daughter wouldn't even date a man unless he was good looking and could dance. We are concerned about whether she will be happy with him. They have kept steady company for a year. He is quiet, educated, owns his own business and treats her well. Should we give them our blessing?

AT A LOSS

DEAR AT: Are they asking for your permission or for your blessings? Your daughter shows a better sense today than she did a "few years ago" when she refused to go out with a man unless he was good looking and could dance. Give them your blessings and don't be concerned.

DEAR ABBY: There are some newcomers who live on the edge of town. They have about nine kids. These people (the whole family!) came to church last Sunday in a dump truck. And Abby, I am not saying they weren't clean, but they sure didn't look like they were dressed up for church to me.

Don't you think this shows lack of respect for the Lord? And shouldn't someone in the community tell these people? I am not a snob, but I think appearances are important.

NO SNOB

DEAR NO: I doubt if the Lord cares how people dress for church or how they get there, as long as they go.

DEAR ABBY: A woman I know ever so slightly makes a fetish out of "remembering" people's birthdays and anniversaries. The moment she meets someone she ask when his birthday is. She writes it down and sure enough on that day comes a card from this woman! Half the people she sends cards to don't even know who she is.

I rarely see her, yet she sends me, my husband and all our children cards. She even remembers my anniversary. It is terribly embarrassing because I don't know her birthday, anniversary, or any of her children's birthdays. Besides, it's a bore having to drop her a note to thank her for her "thoughtfulness."

It's not that she is especially fond of me; she does this to people who hardly knows. And I've heard them say they wished she wouldn't. What is wrong with her and how do I cope with it?

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: This poor woman is desperately bidding for attention and is more to be pitied than censured. Thank her for her "thoughtfulness" and let it go at that.

Court Rules Accused Man Is Insane

Alleged Assassin Is Committed to South Africa Jail

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A South African court declared Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's assassin insane today, ending his murder trial. The killer, Dimitrio Tsafendas, 48, was ordered committed to jail, President Charles R. Swart is expected to order his transfer to a mental institution.

The court's ruling ended the trial because it held Tsafendas unfit to plead to the murder charge.

Tsafendas, a native of Portuguese Mozambique who had worked for several months as a messenger in Parliament, stabbed Verwoerd on Sept. 6 as the prime minister sat on the government front bench in the parliamentary chamber.

At the start of his trial this week, the defense told the Cape Town Supreme Court it did not dispute that Tsafendas had killed Verwoerd. Instead it contended that he was mentally disordered at the time and therefore unfit to plead or stand trial.

A battery of defense psychiatrists and two for the prosecution agreed.

Trial Judge Andries Beyers said in his ruling: "I am satisfied on the prehistory of this man, on the evidence of psychiatrists one after the other who have agreed that here we have not a criminal but a mentally sick, disturbed and irresponsible person."

He added that he could only find Tsafendas mentally disordered. Two prosecution witnesses who testified today agreed with defense testimony that Tsafendas suffers from schizophrenia. Several defense psychiatrists had told the court Tsafendas complained of a "demon" tapeworm inside him which upset his whole life and which caused him to kill Verwoerd.

Packaging Bill Becomes Law After Five Years of Effort

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill pointed to protect shoppers against unfair or deceptive methods of packaging and labeling consumer goods has cleared Congress after five years of effort.

But the two senators most responsible for its passage, Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., do not see eye to eye on it.

Congressional action was completed Wednesday with Senate acceptance of what virtually was the version the House insisted on—rather than the bill the Senate originally passed.

Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said he agreed to the House version with great reluctance. But he told the Senate the only alternative was to have no bill at all.

In contrast, Hart said he regarded the House bill as "actually stronger than the Senate's." He was the author and chief sponsor of the Senate bill.

Five years ago Hart introduced what he called a "truth in packaging" bill to deal with consumer complaints about cents-off deals, fractional weights and measures, slack fill, misleading illustrations, hard-to-find and hard-to-read statements of net contents, and odd shapes and sizes of packages.

A lot of testimony was received that housewives needed a slide rule to figure out the best buys when they went shopping in supermarkets, partly because of the multitude of different weights or quantities.

The bill sent to President Johnson Wednesday directs the secretary of commerce to request manufacturers to develop voluntary standards for package weights or quantities if he finds a product is being marketed in so many different size packages that the ability of consumers to make value comparisons is impaired.

The House insisted on this voluntary approach in place of the authority the Senate bill would have given the secretary to impose standards in the absence of self-regulation by industry.

Magnuson, deploring the House's refusal to take this part of the Senate bill, vowed to make a new effort in the next Congress.

But Hart took the position that the House version on package standards would prove more effective and produce faster results.

He said if voluntary agreements are not reached and complied with under the House bill, he expects Congress to provide for mandatory, government-imposed standards without a "mass of red tape."

Hart agreed at a news conference, however, that the lack of requirements for uniform weights and measures still would leave consumers with complicated problems of mathematics in comparing competing products.

For example, shoppers still would have to figure out whether a product packaged in 174 ounces and selling for 33 cents is a better buy than another of 194 ounces selling for 39 cents.

But the labeling provisions of the bill are designed to make such comparisons easier by requiring that the net contents of a package be stated in terms of total ounces — 19 ounces for example, instead of one pound three ounces.

The net quantity also would have to be shown in a uniform location on the principal display panel, and without any qualifying phrase like "jumbo quart" or "six full ounces."

The World Today

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — Approximately 200 trial judges in 20 cities were questioned by the Reardon committee in the course of its study of free press and fair trial.

The views expressed offer some interesting insights into current courtroom practices.

And, taken together, they appear to support the idea that the courts themselves have plenty of elbow room to shield trials from prejudicial publicity.

Virtually all the judges polled by the American Bar Association panel, headed by Justice Paul O. Reardon of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, preside over trials involving serious crimes. Sixty-eight responded.

More than half — 39 — said they never reprimanded the news media or requested they withhold their reports before or during trial. Two said they occasionally reprimanded the media and 27 said they occasionally requested that the reporting be withheld.

What was the response when the news media were asked "not to report certain information"? Twenty-two said they generally or always received compliance, three said they sometimes received compliance and one said the requests were refused. One judge did not reply.

Among the procedures open to defense attorneys to guard against a prejudiced jury are to ask that the case be put off for a while or that it be heard somewhere else.

Thirty-four judges said they had never been asked for a case on grounds of prejudicial news coverage and 41 said they had never been asked for a change of locale on those grounds.

And yet 32 judges said there are occasions when a continuance is an effective remedy and 40 said the same thing about a change of venue.

The judges also were asked how often the defense sought a mistrial or new trial on grounds of prejudicial news coverage. Thirty-seven said never, 19 said seldom, eight said occasionally, one said often and three did not answer.

Perhaps most significant were the replies to the question: "What benefits do you believe are derived from news reporting of criminal matters?"

Thirty-six said it increases public awareness, 18 said scrutiny of public officials, nine said deterrence of crime and two said it aids administration of justice. Fourteen said there were no benefits.

Nine judges did not answer. Of those that responded some listed more than one benefit.

Could the same benefits be obtained if attorneys and law enforcement officers were prohibited from making certain "extrajudicial public statements?" — a major recommendation of the committee. Seven judges said benefits would be impaired, 40 said they would still be obtained, 14 said there would be no benefits and seven did not answer.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Oct. 20, the 293rd day of 1966. There are 72 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On his day in 1918, Germany sent a third peace note to the United States, agreeing to terms specified by President Woodrow Wilson. At the same time, the Germans recalled all their submarines to their bases.

On this date In 1740, Maria Theresia became ruler of Austria, Hungary and Bohemia.

In 1910, Woodrow Wilson resigned the presidency of Princeton University.

In 1941, the Soviet Union's Joseph Stalin proclaimed a state of seig in Moscow.

In 1943, British Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten conferred with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in China.

In 1945, the War Department announced that almost half the soldiers from the Atlantic and Pacific were home.

Ten years ago . . . The Chicago Tribune Co. announced the purchase of Chicago's two Hearst newspapers—the American and the Sunday American. The transaction left Chicago without a Hearst newspaper for the first time since William Randolph Hearst Sr. founded the American in 1900.

Five years ago . . . West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer agreed to resign his post in the summer of 1963. This was the price he had to pay in order to form a coalition government Union and the small Free Democratic Party.

Housewives' Plight Is Frustration

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Frustrated housewives are running into trouble with everyone from district attorneys to their own husbands in their organized attempts to cut food prices.

In Portland, Ore., the district attorney has an investigation of the grocery price war that has seen milk drop to 18 cents a gallon.

One store even was giving away a gallon of milk, a loaf of bread and a pint of cottage cheese with every purchase.

In Van Nuys, Calif., housewives ran into objections from their husbands when they tried to organize.

The housewives have claimed some victories.

In Portland, a group of war on poverty workers organized a car pool to ferry residents of a low-income primarily Negro area to supermarkets across the Willamette River offering free bread.

In New York, the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., the nation's largest grocery chain, expressed sympathy for the housewives and suggested they could save 20 per cent by buying private label brand.

Quite aside from the boycotts and price wars, the housewife is in for some good news. Wholesale food prices dropped this week for the fifth straight week, and now are running only 3.7 per cent higher than a year ago. At one time they were nearly 15 per cent higher.

Egg prices are down another 1 cent a dozen in San Francisco and 2 cents in New York. Butter prices are down sharply, and margarine has dropped, too.

Beef supplies also are greater, leading to the prospect of price cuts.

Romney Looks Unbeatable In His Bid for Third Term

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Democrats aren't saying so publicly, but few believe Gov. George Romney can be beaten in his bid for a third term.

Their goal is to whittle Romney's margin to less than the 383,000-vote plurality he rolled up two years ago—and take the sheen off Romney-for-president talk.

That 1964 victory for Republican Romney came amid a Democratic landslide that won control of the legislature and a majority of Michigan's congressional delegation.

If Romney has White House ambitions—and most everybody believes he has—his standing at the 1968 Republican nominating convention would be considerably enhanced if he could score another big victory, and also carry some Republicans into office on his coattails.

More and more, Romney is ignoring his opponent, Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency, and working harder to help. Sen. Robert P. Griffin against the formidable challenge of former Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Democrats, on the other hand have kept the heavy artillery rolling in—including party-boosting visits by President Johnson, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Edward F. Kennedy of Massachusetts. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York is expected to visit Michigan before the Nov. 8 balloting.

Republicans countered with appearances by Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon also has scheduled a Michigan stop.

But a poll taken by an independent research group for the Detroit News indicates Griffin leads Williams, a six-term governor, 51 to 46 per cent.

The poll apparently reflects Romney's work for Griffin, and the fact that Williams was sidelined for five weeks by a kidney stone operation. Romney, incidentally, led Ferency in the poll 6 to 33.

Ferency, a witty and articulate campaigner who claims he relishes the role of underdog, has kept up a dawn-to-midnight schedule of handshaking and speechmaking, aimed largely at Michigan's big union vote.

Fine Suspended For Destructiveness

Virginia Fullen of Williamsport was handed a suspended fine of $50 and costs by Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling M. Lamb.

She was charged with malicious destruction of property by Wayne Fetherolf. Judge Lamb suspended the fine on the condition that she make restitution for damage she did to a door frame of an apartment owned by Fetherolf.

EXPECTANT FACES — The chilly weather failed to keep people away from the judging for the Miss Pumpkin Show title. Packed around shoulder to shoulder at the W. Main St. stand, each person was rooting for his or her favorite contestant. The coveted honor went to Pat Dawley of Logan, Elm.

The World Today

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — Approximately 200 trial judges in 20 cities were questioned by the Reardon committee in the course of its study of free press and fair trial.

The views expressed offer some interesting insights into current courtroom practices. And, taken together, they appear to support the idea that the courts themselves have plenty of elbow room to shield trials from prejudicial publicity.

Virtually all the judges polled by the American Bar Association panel, headed by Justice Paul O. Reardon of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, preside over trials involving serious crimes. Sixty-eight responded.

More than half — 39 — said they never reprimanded the news media or requested they withhold their reports before or during trial. Two said they occasionally reprimanded the media and 27 said they occasionally requested that the reporting be withheld.

What was the response when the news media were asked "not to report certain information"? Twenty-two said they generally or always received compliance, three said they sometimes received compliance and one said the requests were refused. One judge did not reply.

Among the procedures open to defense attorneys to guard against a prejudiced jury are to ask that the case be put off for a while or that it be heard somewhere else.

Thirty-four judges said they had never been asked for a case on grounds of prejudicial news coverage and 41 said they had never been asked for a change of locale on those grounds.

And yet 32 judges said there are occasions when a continuance is an effective remedy and 40 said the same thing about a change of venue.

The judges also were asked how often the defense sought a mistrial or new trial on grounds of prejudicial news coverage. Thirty-seven said never, 19 said seldom, eight said occasionally, one said often and three did not answer.

Perhaps most significant were the replies to the question: "What benefits do you believe are derived from news reporting of criminal matters?"

Thirty-six said it increases public awareness, 18 said scrutiny of public officials, nine said deterrence of crime and two said it aids administration of justice. Fourteen said there were no benefits.

Nine judges did not answer. Of those that responded some listed more than one benefit.

Could the same benefits be obtained if attorneys and law enforcement officers were prohibited from making certain "extrajudicial public statements?" — a major recommendation of the committee. Seven judges said benefits would be impaired, 40 said they would still be obtained, 14 said there would be no benefits and seven did not answer.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, Oct. 20, the 293rd day of 1966. There are 72 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On his day in 1918, Germany sent a third peace note to the United States, agreeing to terms specified by President Woodrow Wilson. At the same time, the Germans recalled all their submarines to their bases.

On this date In 1740, Maria Theresa became ruler of Austria, Hungary and Bohemia.

In 1910, Woodrow Wilson resigned the presidency of Princeton University.

In 1941, the Soviet Union's Joseph Stalin proclaimed a state of seig in Moscow.

In 1943, British Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten conferred with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek in China.

In 1945, the War Department announced that almost half the soldiers from the Atlantic and Pacific were home.

Ten years ago . . . The Chicago Tribune Co. announced the purchase of Chicago's two Hearst newspapers—the American and the Sunday American. The transaction left Chicago without a Hearst newspaper for the first time since William Randolph Hearst Sr. founded the American in 1900.

Five years ago . . . West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer agreed to resign his post in the summer of 1963. This was the price he had to pay in order to form a coalition government Union and the small Free Democratic Party.

Housewives' Plight Is Frustration

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Frustrated housewives are running into trouble with everyone from district attorneys to their own husbands in their organized attempts to cut food prices.

In Portland, Ore., the district attorney has an investigation of the grocery price war that has seen milk drop to 18 cents a gallon.

One store even was giving away a gallon of milk, a loaf of bread and a pint of cottage cheese with every purchase.

In Van Nuys, Calif., housewives ran into objections from their husbands when they tried to organize.

The housewives have claimed some victories.

In Portland, a group of war on poverty workers organized a car pool to ferry residents of a low-income primarily Negro area to supermarkets across the Willamette River offering free bread.

In New York, the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., the nation's largest grocery chain, expressed sympathy for the housewives and suggested they could save 20 per cent by buying private label brand.

Quite aside from the boycotts and price wars, the housewife is in for some good news. Wholesale food prices dropped this week for the fifth straight week, and now are running only 3.7 per cent higher than a year ago. At one time they were nearly 15 per cent higher.

Egg prices are down another 1 cent a dozen in San Francisco and 2 cents in New York. Butter prices are down sharply, and margarine has dropped, too.

Beef supplies also are greater, leading to the prospect of price cuts.

Romney Looks Unbeatable In His Bid for Third Term

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Democrats aren't saying so publicly, but few believe Gov. George Romney can be beaten in his bid for a third term.

Their goal is to whittle Romney's margin to less than the 383,000-vote plurality he rolled up two years ago—and take the sheen off Romney-for-president talk.

That 1964 victory for Republican Romney came amid a Democratic landslide that won control of the legislature and a majority of Michigan's congressional delegation.

If Romney has White House ambitions—and most everybody believes he has—his standing at the 1968 Republican nominating convention would be considerably enhanced if he could score another big victory, and also carry some Republicans into office on his coattails.

More and more, Romney is ignoring his opponent, Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency, and working harder to help Sen. Robert P. Griffin against the formidable challenge of former Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Democrats, on the other hand have kept the heavy artillery rolling in—including party-boosting visits by President Johnson, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Edward F. Kennedy of Massachusetts. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York is expected to visit Michigan before the Nov. 8 balloting.

Republicans countered with appearances by Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon also has scheduled a Michigan stop.

But a poll taken by an independent research group for the Detroit News indicates Griffin leads Williams, a six-term governor, 51 to 46 per cent.

The poll apparently reflects Romney's work for Griffin, and the fact that Williams was sidelined for five weeks by a kidney stone operation. Romney, incidentally, led Ferency in the poll 6 to 33.

Ferency, a witty and articulate campaigner who claims he relishes the role of underdog, has kept up a dawn-to-midnight schedule of handshaking and speechmaking, aimed largely at Michigan's big union vote.

On the big national issues—Viet Nam, education, civil rights—Williams and Griffin are not far apart. So the campaigning has centered on the personalities.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Draft women in the United States? Never, says Maj. Gen. James F. Cantwell of Trenton, N. J.

Cantwell, president of the National Guard Association of the United States, said.

"I'm not opposed to women serving in the armed forces as they do, but I don't believe we should make Cuban guerrillas of them or mix women up in the same unit with men like the Russians."

Chattanooga Moving Up

Dakota Teams Top Small-College Pick

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chattanooga, advancing like an oncoming choo-choo train, roared into fourth place in the Associated Press' small college football poll today. North Dakota State remained No. 1 while North Dakota held the runner-up position.

In 10th place a week ago, Chattanooga dropped third-ranked Middle Tennessee state 5-0 last Saturday and climbed six places. The setback dropped Middle Tennessee to ninth.

North Dakota State had eight first-place votes and 141 points in the latest balloting by a national panel of 15 sports writers and broadcasters. The Bison downed Augustana, S.D., 28-0 for a 6-0 season record.

North Dakota, 5-0 after walloping South Dakota State 43-0, collected 114 points on a basis of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc.

The two top teams meet this Saturday on North Dakota's field in Grand Forks.

San Diego State moved up one place to third after beating San Jose State 25-0. Sul Ross State, 14-13 winner over Stephen F. Austin, held the No. 5 spot.

Montana State, Weber State, Arkansas State, Middle Tennessee State and Tennessee State complete the first 10 in that order.

The Top Ten, with first place votes and total points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. North Dakota State 8 141
2. North Dakota 2 114
3. San Diego state 2 101
4. Chattanooga 57
5. Sul Ross State 1 56
6. Montana State 46
7. Weber State 42
8. Arkansas State 1 40
9. Middle Tennessee 32
10. Tennessee State 1 26

Sunday Game 'Must' for Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — "This game is a must for Cleveland," the coach said. It wasn't Blanton Collier talking, but Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys.

Collier probably agrees. The Cowboys have a 4-0-1 record in the National Football League's Eastern Division while the Browns are 3-2.

At a news conference Wednesday in Dallas, Landry said the difference in Sunday's game between the two teams at Municipal Stadium would be three points. He didn't say who would win.

Landry says the extra week off should help the Browns because "we have so many offensive formations that it takes a couple of weeks to better prepare for us."

The added time off did give Browns defensive tackle Frank Parker time to rest his sprained ankle. Trainer Leo Murphy said the 270-pounder should be "100 per cent" for the game.

Dallas has beaten the Browns only once—in 1962—in the 11 games since Dallas entered the NFL in 1960. The Cowboys, making a strong bid for the Eastern Division title this season, lead the NFL in total yards gained with 2,173 in five games. Most of the teams have played six times.

They also lead the league with 193 points and have given up only 55, low for the NFL.

On Cleveland's side, the Browns lead the league rushing (900 yards) and have given up the least yards rushing (400).

Bob Lundy, trainer for the Miami Dolphins of the American Football League, says he used eight miles of tape the first two days of training camp this summer.

Tiger-Hurricane Clash Is SCOL Title Decider

The Circleville High School football team meets Wilmington's Hurricane Friday in the South Central Ohio League game of the year at Tiger field.

The winner of Friday's game is assured of at least a deadlock for the league title. Neither team has lost a game in SCOL competition.

Since Tiger Coach Paul Starr took over the job of head coach at CHS, the Tigers have never defeated the Hurricane.

Although Starr has made it a point to "play the games as they came" this year, Wilmington game has been on his mind since the Tigers took a 14-6 loss one year ago.

STARR wants the win and he wants it badly. "If we could just beat Wilmington, my season would be perfect," the West Virginian claims.

But win or lose, the Tiger coach is as proud of the current edition of the Red and Black grid team as of any he has ever coached — including the all-winning teams at Parkersburg, his alma mater where he served as an associate coach before coming here.

The Tigers are small, in stature and in numbers. They have been battered and bruised in games and in practice sessions.

In many instances, there have been 30 or fewer boys out for the practice sessions. The CHS depth has been hurt by injuries. And their first line strength has also been hurt.

The Tigers have been a hard luck team everywhere but in the win column. A gritty bunch of fighters, they have surprised just about every fan in town by posting a 5-1 record.

Wilmington brings a huge squad to town. The biggest team in the SCOL, the Hurricane can put a forward wall on the line that outweighs anything Ohio State can come up with this year.

FOUR Wilmington linemen total more than half a ton. Senior tackle Joe Milford tips the scales at 262 pounds. Roger Stanforth, a senior guard, girl masculine or a tomboy," insists Mrs. Diana Thomas of Canberra Australia. 23, a slender brunette with coal black hair falling over her shoulders.

"It's the other way around—if girl is masculine to begin with, she turns to golf. It is an outlet."

Holland's Annie Van Lanschot, a post graduate student with a wall full of degrees, has had Mexican men drooling. Sweden's Birgit Forssman, 29, is a beauty as are Mexico's dark and sultry Elena de Laralde, Bermuda's Jacqueline Brewer, Germany's Monica Stegman and others in the field.

"If you're a woman, you're a woman," said the tall and slender Miss Van Lanschot. "Golf doesn't change that."

The football series between Penn State and Syracuse is all even. Each team has won 10 games. They played five ties.

They are generally a comely lot. No one would mistake them for boys.

"I don't think golf makes weights in at 258 pounds. The monster of the front line is John Breuleux, a 268 pound sophomore tackle. Although he is not listed as a starter, tackle Ron Melvin weighs 244 pounds.

Circleville's biggest lineman is junior Craig Lambert, who was listed in 207 pounds at the beginning of the season. However, hard work has taken its toll on Lambert's size, and he now weighs less than 190 pounds.

To match this huge line, Wilmington has the most prolific backfield in the league.

Gary Scott and Skip Davis lead the SCOL in scoring with 30 points each. Scott is the smallest man on the team at 145 pounds. Davis is a 185 pound halfback.

In John Petty, a 6-3, 202-pound junior, Wilmington has the league's leading passer.

Petty has attempted 34 passes, completed 20 for a total of 313 yards.

WILMINGTON has scored 80 points in three league games and has allowed just 12 points.

The Hurricane is aiming for an unprecedented fourth consecutive SCOL crown. In addition the gridgers of Dean (Oakie) Waddell have their eyes on a third consecutive undefeated league season.

Although Circleville during the past four seasons has played its best games against Wilmington the Tigers have lost.

The game this week comes during Pumpkin Show. And traditionally, the Tiger gridgers have one of their worst performances during the annual fall harvest festival.

Chicago Bulls Surprise in Cage League

Newly Created Team Unbeaten in Three, Takes West Lead

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Break up the Bulls? Well, there haven't been any calls for such drastic measures yet, but some of the other clubs in the National Basketball Association must be starting to wonder what it's all about as the newly created Chicago franchise — supposedly the patsy of all time — goes on winning.

After only three games, the unbeaten Bulls lead the Western Division of the NBA by 1½ games. Wednesday night, they beat the potent Los Angeles Lakers 134-124, despite a 45-point performance by laker star Elgin Baylor.

When the Chicago franchise was stocked, it appeared that the league had really pulled a fast one. The team wasn't given anybody who could be called a star.

But Chicago Coach John Kerr picked up Guy Rodgers from San Francisco and the ranks have formed around him. Wednesday, Rodgers threw in 34 points and helped spark a Chicago surge in the fourth quarter when it appeared that the Lakers might pull it out after trailing 89-71 in the third period.

Baylor and Darrall Imhoff led the Laker surge in the final period and brought Los Angeles to within four points, but then Rodgers and Keith Erickson began pouring in the points. Erickson finished with 26 points.

In the only other game scheduled Wednesday, New York crushed Baltimore 131-109 for the Knicks' second straight triumph.

The Knicks trailed 27-17 at the quarter, but pulled within five points at the half and Howie Komives led a third-quarter surge, getting 11 of his 28 points.

In the opening five minutes of the fourth quarter, the Knicks outscored the Bullets 25-6 and Baltimore was finished. Kevin Loughery led the Baltimore scoring with 29 points. Willis Reed had 23 and Dick Van Arsdale 20 for the Knicks.

Teays Valley's running Vikings lost their final Metropolitan League cross country meet to visiting Reynoldsburg, 20-35.

Top man in the race was Irving Christenson, who had a winning time of 10:22. Second place went to Gene Talbott of Reynoldsburg with Viking Captain Pat Kunke finishing third with a time of 10:51. The meet was held at Upper Lansdown golf course.

The next competition for the Vikings will be the Central District meet to be held Friday on the Raymond Memorial Golf Course in Columbus.

A new sport at Teays Valley, the cross country team was coached by Russ Gregg.

The $100,000 Widener and the $100,000 Flamingo, Hialeach's two feature races, are set for next Jan. 17 and March 3, respectively.

Wobbly Badgers Will Test Bucks

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin's wobbly Badgers will take their football woes to Ohio State Saturday in search for solace from a year-long hangover that threatens to grow worse by the week.

Badger Coach Milt Bruhn, his job possibly in peril, is beginning to juggle his backfield in midseason as if it were a spring practice scrimmage. He's trying to put punch in a paper offense that has scored only one touchdown since the first half of the first game.

The Badgers' 2-2-1 record is identical of that of a year ago before Ohio State overran Wisconsin 20-10. That defeat set the stage for a terrifying tailspin in which Wisconsin's final four foes ran up victories by a combined margin of 160 points.

Bruhn, who escaped with a one-year extension of his contract after the athletic board deadlocked in his dismissal, understandably is not anxious to look beyond Ohio State at the moment in Wisconsin's windup this year against the same teams.

After Wisconsin reeled to a 3-3 tie Saturday with inept Northwestern and extended its scoring miseries to just one touchdown in the last 271 minutes, Bruhn called the Badger performance "our poorest game."

With Wisconsin laying on Ohio State territory here it hasn't won since 1918 and the Buckeyes expected to have their teeth bared coming off a three-game losing streak, Bruhn is working this week to try to piece together more power. Adding incentive to Ohio State is the fact that Saturday is homecoming.

"We're going to have to take another look at our personnel now," he admitted. "We want to see to it that the guys who are doing the job are going to play. There's a lot of sputtering going on in there."

The Badgers' best performer so far has been junior Tom

Schinke, who has intercepted five passes as a defensive halfback, broken away for long runs in returning punts, and kicked five field goals in as many tries to rank as the team's top scorer.

Bruhn has rejected the suggestion of using Schinke on offense where he was the team's No. 2 ground-gainer last year. "He's too valuable on defense," the coach explained.

Wisconsin has been concentrating this season on an interior running game mixed with passing on rollout patterns, and Bruhn said no changes were planned for the Ohio State invasion.

"We are going along basically with the same patterns," he said. "The problem has been execution and we will be working to improve that."

Discontent Flaring Again In Detroit Lion Grid Camp

DETROIT (AP) — The rumbling discontent among the Detroit Lions broke out anew this week — this time in a verbal exchange between team captain Alex Karras and Coach Harry Gilmer.

Disenchanted with the team's performance in its 45-14 loss to Baltimore Sunday, Gilmer said he "talked to the team about not getting ready to play."

But Gilmer denied reports that he had threatened to put the entire club on waivers.

"I know for a fact that Gilmer wanted to put me on waivers," said Karras, the National Football League club's star defensive tackle.

Karras said Gilmer "directed most of his yelling and screaming at me. I know why. He wants to strike fear into the other ball players. But I'm not a whipping dog. All I want to do is play football."

Gilmer said there was an exchange of words Tuesday with Karras, adding: "I'm not saying what was said."

There have been other indications of dissension between Gilmer and some of the players.

Earlier this season, fullback Joe Don Looney was traded to Washington after being suspended by Gilmer for refusing to re-enter a game against Atlanta.

Veteran fullback Nick Pitrosante was released early this year amid some criticism. End Gail Cogdill was fined $1,000 and suspended during the summer for criticizing Gilmer at an off-season banquet.

Chattanooga Moving Up

Dakota Teams Top Small-College Pick

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chattanooga, advancing like an oncoming choo-choo train, roared into fourth place in the Associated Press' small college football poll today. North Dakota State remained No. 1 while North Dakota held the runner-up position.

In 10th place a week ago, Chattanooga downed third-ranked Middle Tennessee state 5-0 last Saturday and climbed six places. The setback dropped Middle Tennessee to ninth.

North Dakota State had eight first-place votes and 141 points in the latest balloting by a national panel of 15 sports writers and broadcasters. The Bison downed Augustana, S.D., 28-0 for a 6-0 season record.

North Dakota, 5-0 after walling South Dakota State 43-0, collected 114 points on a basis of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc.

The two top teams meet this Saturday on North Dakota's field in Grand Forks.

San Diego State moved up one place to third after beating San Jose State 25-0. Sul Ross State, 14-13 winner over Stephen F. Austin, held the No. 5 spot.

Montana State, Weber State, Arkansas State, Middle Tennessee State and Tennessee State complete the first 10 in that order.

The Top Ten, with first place votes and total points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. North Dakota St. 8 141
2. North Dakota 2 114
3. San Diego state 2 101
4. Chattanooga 57
5. Sul Ross State 1 56
6. Montana State 48
7. Weber State 42
8. Arkansas State 1 40
9. Middle Tennessee 32
10. Tennessee State 1 26

Sunday Game 'Must' for Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — "This game is a must for Cleveland," the coach said. It wasn't Blanton Collier talking, but Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys. Collier probably agrees. The Cowboys have a 4-0-1 record in the National Football League's Eastern Division while the Browns are 3-2.

At a news conference Wednesday in Dallas, Landry said the difference in Sunday's game between the two teams at Municipal Stadium would be three points. He didn't say who would win.

Landry says the extra week off should help the Browns because "we have so many of offensive formations that it takes a couple of weeks to better prepare for us."

The added time off did give Browns defensive tackle Frank Parker time to rest his sprained ankle. Trainer Leo Murphy said the 270-pounder should be "100 per cent" for the game.

Dallas has beaten the Browns only once—in 1962—in the 11 games since Dallas entered the NFL in 1960. The Cowboys, making a strong bid for the Eastern Division title this season, lead the NFL in total yards gained with 2,173 in five games. Most of the teams have played six times.

They also lead the league with 193 points and have given up only 55, low for the NFL.

On Cleveland's side, the Browns lead the league rushing (900 yards) and have given up the least yards rushing (400).

Bob Lundy, trainer for the Miami Dolphins of the American Football League, says he used eight miles of tape the first two days of training camp this summer.

Tiger-Hurricane Clash Is SCOL Title Decider

The Circleville High School football team meets Wilmington's Hurricane Friday in the South Central Ohio League game of the year at Tiger field.

The winner of Friday's game is assured of at least a deadlock for the league title. Neither team has lost a game in SCOL competition.

Since Tiger Coach Paul Starr took over the job of head coach at CHS, the Tigers have never defeated the Hurricane.

Although Starr has made it a point to "play the games as they came" this year, Wilmington game has been on his mind since the Tigers took a 14-6 loss one year ago.

STARR wants the win and he wants it badly. "If we could just beat Wilmington, my season would be perfect," the West Virginian claims.

But win or lose, the Tiger coach is as proud of the current edition of the Red and Black grid team as of any he has ever coached — including the all-winning teams at Parkersburg, his alma mater where he served as an associate coach before coming here.

The Tigers are small, in stature and in numbers. They have been battered and bruised in games and in practice sessions. In many instances, there have been 30 or fewer boys out for the practice sessions.

The CHS depth has been hurt by injuries. And their first line strength has also been hurt.

The Tigers have been a hard luck team everywhere but in the win column. A gritty bunch of fighters, they have surprised just about every fan in town by posting a 5-1 record.

Wilmington brings a huge squad to town. The biggest team in the SCOL, the Hurricane can put a forward wall on the line that outweighs anything Ohio State can come up with this year.

FOUR Wilmington linemen total more than half a ton. Senior tackle Joe Milford tips the scales at 262 pounds. Roger Stanforth, a senior guard, girl masculine or a tomboy," insists Mrs. Diana Thomas of Canberra Australia, 23, a slender brunette with coal black hair falling over her shoulders.

"It's the other way around — if girl is masculine to begin with, she turns to golf. It is an outlet."

Holland's Annie Van Lanschot, a post graduate student with a wall full of degrees, has had Mexican men drooling. Sweden's Birgit Forsman, 29, is a beauty as are Mexico's dark and sultry Elena de Laralde, Bermuda's Jacqueline Brewer, Germany's Monica Stegman and others in the field.

"If you're a woman, you're a woman," said the tall and slender Miss Van Lanschot. "Golf doesn't change that."

The football series between Penn State and Syracuse is all even. Each team has won 10 games. They played five ties.

They are generally a comely lot. No one would mistake them for boys.

"I don't think golf makes weighs in at 258 pounds. The monster of the front line is John Breuleux, a 268 pound sophomore tackle. Although he is not listed as a starter, tackle Ron Melvin weighs 244 pounds.

Circleville's biggest lineman is junior Craig Lambert, who was listed in 207 pounds at the beginning of the season. However, hard work has taken its toll on Lambert's size, and he now weighs less than 190 pounds.

To match this huge line, Wilmington has the most prolific backfield in the league.

Gary Scott and Skip Davis lead the SCO in scoring with 30 points each. Scott is the smallest man on the team at 145 pounds. Davis is a 185 pound halfback.

In John Petty, a 6-3, 202-pound junior, Wilmington has the league's leading passer. Petty has attempted 34 passes, completed 20 for a total of 313 yards.

WILMINGTON has scored 80 points in three league games and has allowed just 12 points.

The Hurricane is aiming for an unprecedented fourth consecutive SCO crown. In addition the gridders of Dean (Oakie) Waddell have their eyes on a third consecutive undefeated league season.

Although Circleville during the past four seasons has played its best games against Wilmington the Tigers have lost.

The game this week comes during Pumpkin Show. And traditionally, the Tiger gridgers have one of their worst performances during the annual fall harvest festival.

Practice sessions have been good this week according to Starr. With the exception of Eddie Wells, who has been out of practice sessions with the flu all week, the Tigers appear healthy.

Starr expects his starting lineup to be much the same it has been during the past two weeks.

Elsewhere around the SCO this week, Greenfield travels to Miami Trace and Hillsboro hosts Washington C. H.

Women Golfers Are Touchy Regarding Their Femininity

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Don't try to tell the girls competing in the Women's world Team Championship here that a lady loses her femininity when she takes up tournament golf.

You may get a one iron wrapped around your neck.

"Certainly, we hear that — we hear it all the time," said statuesque, blonde Marina Ragher of Italy. "I think it is ridiculous. If we weren't playing golf, we would be playing tennis, water-skiing or doing something else."

"Do these things make a girl muscular and hard looking?" Miss Ragher and her Italian teammate, Marion Tadini, answer the question negatively without saying a word.

Both — willowy, shapely blondes in their 20s — have been encouraged by friends to enter the Miss Universe contest.

They'd rather play golf.

The best women amateur golfers of the world, 57 of them from 19 nations, are here for the World Tournament, starting today over the Mexico country Club.

Hondo, Siegfried Get Feelers from Pro Grid Teams

BOSTON (AP) — Pro football appears to have settled its internal squabbles with proposed merger of the National and American leagues. Now looms big question: Does it plan occasional raids on pro basketball?

Two key members of the Boston Celtics, perennial champions of the National Basketball Association, reported Wednesday talks with NFL clubs about the possibility of switching to pro football.

John Havlicek, who led the Celtics to an eighth straight NBA title last spring, said he received an offer of $40,000 to play flanker-back for the Cleveland Browns and a $15,000 bonus offer just to report to the Washington Redskins' training camp for a trial last summer.

Larry Siegfried, Havlicek's former Ohio State basketball teammate and another top player for the Celtics, said he had received "feelers" from an unnamed NFL club.

Havlicek, 26, and Siegfried, 27, told Bill McSweeney, basketball writer for the Boston Record-American of their pro football dealings. However, they emphasized they would give no further thought to football until after the basketball season.

In Cleveland, Browns' President Art Modell said that "no offer was made" to Havlicek, who tried out with the club as a tight end and was the last player to be cut before he joined the Celtics four years ago.

"John and I are good friends and he visited our training camp," Modell said. "Ever since he turned pro (in basketball), I've kidded him, 'why not give it more try for kicks.'"

"It was a social get-together and I invited him to the doubleheader on Aug. 26. There was no offer made but any time he wants to try out he's welcome to come."

Otto Graham, coach of the Redskins, confirmed that he talked with Havlicek about playing pro football, but said that no specific amount was discussed.

rights to the Super Bowl game. It is likely that the game will be held the weekend of Jan. 7-8 with either this game or the Playoff Bowl winding up at night.

They have talked about the Rose Bowl, the Sugar Bowl, the Orange Bowl and the Astrodome as the site. If you have to make a guess, take the Rose Bowl, although some college authorities will not be happy.

The NFL's Pro Bowl in Los Angeles and the AFL All-Star game in Oakland are supposed to be played Sunday, Jan. 15 but all that presumably could change. However, it is unlikely they would wait that long to play the Super Bowl when the AFL winner will have been decided Dec. 26. If there is a tie and another playoff, they may be playing until baseball opens spring training.

If each Green Bay Packer got

$7,819.91 and each Cleveland Brown $3,288.83 after last January's NFL title game in Green Bay, how much will the 1966 winners get if they play the AFL champs?

Some of the money probably will be siphoned off into the pension fund but the winning share surely will be worth more than $10,000.

Roger Brown hit Johnny Unitas so hard last Sunday that his socks fell down—Brown's socks, that is. The Lion's defensive tackle charged so fast, trying to break up a Lou Michaels field goal that Baltimore guard Don Sullivan said, "It's a wonder Michaels didn't get killed." ... CBS moves into its Sunday football doubleheader schedule with the Oct. 30 games. ... The Oct. 31 night pairing of St. Louis and Chicago will be televised nationally.

Otto Graham, coach of the Redskins, confirmed that he talked with Havlicek about playing pro football, but said that no specific amount was discussed.

Havlicek, who is 6-foot-5 and weighs 205, was a standout quarterback in high school, but passed up the sport to concentrate on basketball at Ohio State. Siegfried played intramural football at Ohio State and was considered a standout on defense.

"I'm intrigued," Havlicek told McSweeney. "I think I could have been a pro quarterback if I started younger. I know I can be a flankerback, or a floating safetyman on defense."

"It's something you have to think of," Siegfried said in discussing a possible switch. "It would be a real challenge. We belong to the Celtics this year, but we're duty bound to ourselves to consider it."

Sheriff's Car Involved in Accident

The Pickaway County Sheriff's unmarked cruiser was involved in an accident at 7:20 p. m. Wednesday one mile north of South Bloomfield.

Deputy James Lockard was operating the cruiser at the time.

The deputy had checked a complaint in the northern part of the county and was returning to Circleville when he spotted a car on Route 23 driving at an apparent excessive rate of speed.

The deputy gave chase in the unmarked car and just north of Route 23 signaled the car to pull over to the side of the road.

As Deputy Lockard started to pull over, a car in the driving lane and the cruiser collided, causing about $200 damage.

The driver of the first car was cited for reckless operation. Robert Lee Corne, of Mansfield, forfeited a $80 bond in Municipal Court today when he failed to appear for a hearing answering the charge.

The other car, operated by Earl G. Hurich, 64, of Upper Sandusky, sustained minor damage to the left rear fender. Pearl Urich, who was a passenger, complained of a pain in her left side.

Pride of a Lifetime...

Of all the gifts you could choose for Mother this is the one she'll treasure longest

The Mother's Ring

Two bands of 14 Karat Gold symbolize Mother and Father — joined by lustrous synthetic stones of the month, one for each child in the family

Hers alone — The Mother's Ring. She is the only one who may wear this beautifully-executed tribute created by fine jewelry craftsmen. Can you think of a gift so significantly right for Mother — so individual, so personal? The Mother's Ring symbolizes all of the love you and your children can give her!

There is only one Mother's Ring. It is so distinctive, so unique, it has been awarded U. S. Patent #186,183. Ask for it by name, confirm it by its identifying tag.
